

EPISODE #206

SCRIPTURE NOTES

Reflect

When she was young, Amy was invited to a Bible camp, where the love and salvation of Christ finally clicked with her. When did you first understand Jesus's sacrifice? Did someone introduce it to you or invite you somewhere?

In your life, who are some women who have encouraged you in your spiritual journey?

The Bible doesn't name a lot of women. So for the women we do see, who are they and what are they doing?

As you're reading the Gospels, observe: How does Jesus treat women? How does He interact with them in ways that give them a voice and a purpose in His ministry?

What giftings has the Holy Spirit shown that you have and can use?

Pray

Precious Father, thank you for the example of biblical women, both those shown in Your Word, and those you've graciously brought into my life. Please shape my heart to be like these women, full of grace and truth. Open my eyes to times where I can be bold in my faith and reflect Your love.

More to Explore

Who was the first disciple?
Did you answer "Simon Peter"?
Okay, we admit it! It's a trick question. More than a Mother is a short devotional booklet that explores what we can learn from the very first disciple: Jesus's mother, Mary.

SCAN THE QR CODE TO START READING

